

Drum Heaters

Applications

The 200 litre (44 Gallon) drum is still today the container of choice to hold many solid, liquid and semi-liquid products. To heat these products, an electric drum heater is the safest and most efficient way of heating the contents.

BJC Elements manufactures a range of different drum heaters suitable for many industrial and commercial applications.

Pictured are just a few of the BJC drum heaters available. We are also able to design and build multi drum heater ovens to suit your application.
